

If not, arm yourself with a paper towel and be ready to wipe.

In the photo of the Raspberry & Vanilla Lollipops, the ice cream was poured directly into the glasses after being made, and it was left to freeze until solid. When the shot glasses came out of the freezer, they got frosty and it was difficult to see that there was a red bottom layer.

These Raspberry & Vanilla Lollipops, showing frost, to the right. (15.5, 125, 103mm).

For the photo of the Raspberry & Vanilla Lollipops, the ice cream was poured directly into the glasses after being made, and it was left to freeze until solid. When the shot glasses came out of the freezer, they got frosty and it was difficult to see that there was a red bottom layer.